

LAS PALMAS DE GRAN CANARIA - 13/19 MAY

PROMOTE, ACT, LIVE

Applicant organization

Invasiones Creativas is a non profit Association, inspired by the principles of democracy. Its core objectives are sharing, promoting and giving value to art in all of its forms and aspects.

The Association fosters the use of art as a tool to favour dialogue, deep knowledge and stimulate debate about values such as human dignity, freedom of expression and respect for diversity.

The Association wants to give visibility and develop creativity of every person, including people with disabilities and other disadvantaged groups; mapping social environment to create a network of communication to promote culture. Favouring social inclusion and promoting dialogue and solidarity among cultures, also through different artistic expression forms.

Our beliefs and actions can be reflected in:

- Use of Art as a visual language to develop creative, esthetic and expressive skills
- Promotion of the development of an artistic, ecological and sustainable collective idea; sensibilization and development of the concepts of re-using and recycling, stymulating the art, and encouraging free exchange markets
- Promotion of non formal learning activities, to activate creative paths to share personal and practical experiences
- Growth and development of intellectual and practical capacities through workshops; the ones dedicated to children
- Proposing of workshops on arts and crafts for youth and adults on re-using and recycling old objects
- Promotion of self-produced artistic activities, giving value to crafting, design, photography and painting
- Contributing to social inclusion through art and crafts towards foreigners and immigrants, persons with disabilities and other disadvantaged groups

Summary of the project

“Promote, Act, Live for Human Rights” is an international training course developed to fill the gap of information and knowledge of youth workers, leaders and activists, about human rights in a youth perspective. under the Key Action 1 of the Erasmus Plus Programme.

The training course will look at what we can do through our organizations for human right education and how we can work with young people in our wider communities to reduce violence, discrimination, racism, xenophobia and gender-based forms of nonrespect.

The main objectives of the course are:

- To train youth workers in acquiring knowledge about human rights, skills for their promotion, and developing attitudes in a human rights perspective;
- To support young trainers to get practical working experience on HRE for youth;
- To familiarize with the approaches of the revised Compass manual as well as other relevant manuals and publications;
- To share examples, issues and best practices for human rights education for youth in different contexts;
- To explore new challenges and international trends in human rights education for youth;
- To reinforce the network of youth workers and trainers on human rights education for youth;
- to foster the spreading of the Erasmus + programme as a tool for promotion of HR for youth in Europe.

Methodology: The methodology used will be the one of non-formal education, based on the Compass manuals, completed by theoretical inputs about the history and legal frameworks of Human Rights in Europe.

Participant selection

The project will engage 17 participants from 7 countries: Spain, Italy, Lithuania, France, Estonia, Croatia and Portugal, with 1 trainers and 2 supporting staff, involved in educational process and logistics.

There will be 2 participants per country.

The project will also engage at least 7 participants with fewer opportunities, arising due to economic, geographic, social and cultural obstacles.

The target groups of the participants include:

YOUTH WORKERS: the project will engage those delivering activities for youth in partner organisations including the ones providing training for youth workers and young people in the field of social inclusion, youth participation, citizenship, human rights education and other areas that overlap with the concept of social inclusion. .

LEADERS AND ACTIVE MEMBERS OF YOUTH ORGANISATIONS: Youth leaders already involved and committed in activities implemented by organizations which daily deal with exclusion and marginalization.

Participant selection
